I. Student Conduct Code

Each student assumes the responsibility for knowing and abiding by the Student Conduct Code and Academic Honor Code. The Codes were designed to provide clarity, insight, and guidance into the expected behaviors and decisions of students, as well as to support and foster a safe, respectful, and ethical learning environment. The university reserves the right to modify policies and procedures as needs dictate. The Codes are not intended to be exhaustive. Students enrolling at WCU assume an obligation to conduct themselves in a manner compatible with the university's function as an educational institution of higher learning and suitable to a member of an academic community. The university, therefore, expects its students to conduct themselves as responsible individuals, considerate and respectful of the rights and interests of others. Furthermore, since a great deal of emphasis within WCU is on the development of professionals within the healthcare field, one's honesty and integrity is of great importance since people's lives are dependent on ethical behavior. If, in the judgment of the administrative officers of the university, a student's conduct does not conform to the above-stated standards, poses a threat or danger to self and/or others, or potentially disrupts the WCU community, the university will follow a course of action deemed appropriate up to and including dismissal from a course and potentially suspension or dismissal from the university.
